MAJORITY VOTES FOR MANCHURIAN CONCILIATION

Mayor Leeming Returned To Office
CIVIC POLL IS CLOSEST HERE IN MANY YEARS

Present Incumbent Gains Ten Per Cent Margin Over E. B. Andros For Chief Magistrate's Chair in 1933

TWO TIED IN COUNCIL VOTE

Williams and Hunter on Top; Three New Aldermen For Next Year; All School Trustees Returned

Elections of Victoria yesterday returned Mayor David Leeming to office and placed three new men on the City Council, in one of the closest civic election fights in many years.

The mayor's majority over E. B. Andros was 262 on the official count, which was completed at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Dr. J. D. Hunter, Walter Luney and Andrew McGavin are the three new aldermen. Alderman R. T. Williams and James Adam were re-elected. School Trustees George Jay, Percy George and W. C. Moresby, K.C., were all returned to office.

The struggle for the mayoralty and the aldermanic seats was a tough and close affair from the start of the count. Alderman Williams, who rode on a sweepstake ticket, topped the council poll by the narrow margin of nine votes on the first round, and the final difference of 244 votes separated the five men who were elected. The recount late today will alter this standing.

TWO DEFEATED
Alderman T. W. Hawkins, who is just completing his first term on the council, and Alderman H. O. Litchfield, who has served under four mayors, were defeated in the aldermanic battle. Alderman Hawkins was approximately 130 below Andrew McGavin, the fifth member of the council named.

Despite the cold weather, the voters turned out in good volume and ran up a total of 5,939 ballots marked. This is about 62 per cent of those eligible to vote, a drop of 5 per cent from the big poll of 1931, which aggregated close to 7,000. In last year's election, however, there was the added interest of a contest for police commissioner.

GEORGE LEADS TRUSTEES
The result of the School Board poll was never in doubt after the first few hundred votes had been counted. The three incumbents were accorded the major share of support from the start, and gradually increased their lead. Trustee George Jay, who has completed one term on the board, finished with a margin of seven votes over Trustee Moresby to head the poll at the finish. For the first time, when 2,000 Trustee George Jay, chairman and veteran of thirty-one years on the board, did not top the list.

Reflecting, apparently, the hard campaign waged by Mr. Andros, the majority vote was close throughout the count, although Mayor Leeming always had a steady margin, which increased slightly. Out of the first hundred ballots counted, Mr. Leeming had a margin of twelve. This increased to twenty-six when 200 had been recorded and at 1,000 mark it had jumped to ninety. As the counting progressed it became apparent that he would hold about a 10 per cent margin over his opponent.

FIGHT FOR COUNCIL SEATS
Even more interesting was the aldermanic count, featured by the competition of Alderman Williams, Dr. Hunter and Mr. Luney for top place. In the early counts Alderman James Adam led the way, but when 2,000 ballots had been counted he dropped back, giving place to Dr. Hunter, whose name was on top for some time. Alderman Williams led by some votes on the preliminary count, but finished in a tie at 2,735 in the official recount.

Despite the closeness of the aldermanic vote the selection of the five to be elected was apparent early in the progress count. Alderman Hawkins' vote dropped behind that of the others in the first 700, and slipped a few at a time until the last figure showed him 129 behind Mr. McGavin.

MCGAVIN ELECTED
Mr. McGavin, who formerly was police commissioner here, being deposited when the elective form of commission was abolished by the legislature, regarded the vote as a vindication of his actions on the police board. In his platform address he had appealed on this ground alone. Observers of the count believe the result was significant of the people's attitude with regard to the change in the police commission. Trustee Jay.

DEBT PAYMENT PLAN DEBATED

Britain and U.S. Discuss Method For London's Dec. 15 Instalment

Canadian Press and Associated Press

London, Dec. 9.—It was learned officially today that the British and United States governments now are negotiating to find methods whereby the British war debt payment due December 15 can be made.

An important cabinet meeting will be held early next week, after Premier MacDonald returns from Geneva, to make the final decisions regarding the payment due Thursday. Previous official reports of this cabinet meeting said it would draft a note to urge speedy revision of the war debt settlement to this month's payment of $95,550,000. This was marked the beginning of a new phase of the debt problem which responsible quarters here believed would help to take the controversy out of the realm of "international squabbling."

Political circles professed disappointment at the refusal of the United States to postpone the December payment.

Nevertheless it appeared the government had seized on what it regarded as the fundamental points of the Anglo-American debt problem. It was reasoned that the most essential point of the British note was the request for a review of the whole debt question, and that the reply of the United States virtually granted this.

PREPARED FOR CRITICISM
The British government appeared to be prepared for criticism because it was not insisting on the French debt payment to the British in March. But the cabinet was believed to be prepared likewise to defend the action taken by Premier MacDonald and Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in Paris.

Owner of New Island Jersey Herd Has An Ambitious Plan

At the 1,200-acre Heatherbank Farm, near Cobble Hill, Ronald Wattie has set out to establish a herd of purebred cattle that may make it unnecessary to import high-class sires and dams to keep the dairy industry on this island on a high plane.

The story of what is being accomplished at this great farm will be told in a feature article in The Victoria Daily Times to-morrow. The story is illustrated by a full page of specially-taken photographs.

MERCURY RISES AS SUN SHINES

Relief From Cold Snap in Victoria As Wind Drops

Bright sunshine, crisp air and slowly rising temperatures, which had climbed up to 28 degrees shortly before noon, started Victoria on its return to less frigid weather to-day.

The minimum temperature recorded during the night and early morning was reported to be 20 degrees in the standard screen at the top of Gonzales Hill and 13 on the grass at the same point.

The map was exceptionally promising. F. Napier Denison stated in his report to-day. The dropping wind and indications of continued fine, clear and cold weather were greeted by hundreds of skaters in the city with keen enthusiasm.

COLD RECEDED

After the wide reaching spell of intense cold, the northwestern part of the continent was recovering generally to-day, although shivering thousands in Winnipeg still lamented over temperatures which touched a minimum this morning of 28 below. In Chicago the mercury staying down at 6 above, however was below zero, as was Prince George, the marks being 12 and 16 below zero to-day. On the prairies sub-zero conditions still prevailed but slight improvements were shown.

Vancouver was reported to have touched a minimum of 14 above during the night, while Portland was up four degrees higher with Seattle's temperature standing at a minimum of 20.

COLD IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, Dec. 9.—King Winter refused to release his grip of the Pacific northwest overnight and Vancouver's minimum was fourteen above at 6 a.m.

REICHSTAG TAKES RECESS

Berlin, Dec. 9.—Chancellor Kurt von Schleicher won his first political victory since assuming the chancellorship when he prevailed on the Reichstag to-day to adjourn, subject to call by Speaker Hermann Wilhelm Goering. This means parliament will be off his hands at least until late in January and the cabinet will be able to proceed with its reconstruction work unhindered.

FOUGHT THROUGH FLAMES

Seizing the baby and second child, the father and mother fought their way through the flames in night attire and sought refuge from the bitter cold in a hen house nearby.

By that time the dwelling was a seething mass of flames, and the parents were powerless to save the four children who were trapped inside.

Huddled in the hen house in agony of mind and suffering acute pain from the cold, the four survivors had a harrowing experience. The Nesbit farm house is isolated and no help could be summoned.

AIDED BY NEIGHBORS

It was some time later the flames were noticed by Gordon Scarff, a neighbor who resided about a mile distant. Summoning his brother, Mr. Scarff hurried to the scene. They found the surviving Nesbits, the mother especially, suffering from frost bite, and after giving treatment at their own home and providing warm clothing, they took them to the home of William Swan, a neighbor.

NAMED R.C.M.P. SUPERINTENDENT

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—It was announced to-day at Royal Canadian Mounted Police headquarters here that Inspector James McDonald Tupper had been promoted to the rank of superintendent. He is at present in command of the division which is the province of Saskatchewan.

Superintendent Tupper enlisted in the R.C.M.P. in March, 1906, was promoted to inspector in January, 1915, and his promotion to the rank of superintendent dates back to December 1 of the present year.

ROBBER CARRIED NITROGLYCERIN

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Dec. 9.—An analysis made by Inspector J.F.C.B. Vance of the police bureau of science has revealed that the bottle carried by Harold Knight, who held up C. E. Devereaux, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada branch at Sixteenth Avenue and Oak Street on Wednesday and was captured by the banker, contained nitroglycerine.

It was first thought the bottle used by the robber in intimidating the bank staff contained a harmless substance, but the analysis has proved otherwise. Knight will appear in the police court on Saturday for sentence, having pleaded guilty to the robbery.

FATHER AND MOTHER ESCAPE, CARRYING TWO YOUNG CHILDREN IN NIGHT CLOTHES IN SUB-ZERO WEATHER; FOUR SUFFERING FROM EXPOSURE WHEN RESCUED

Canadian Press

Edmonton, Dec. 9.—Fire swept through the farm home of Charles Nesbitt, two and a half miles north-east of Perinotah in the Camrose district, between 4 and 5 a.m. to-day, burning to death four members of the family and forcing the father, mother and two younger children, clad in night attire, to flee for their lives in sub-zero weather. Those who lost their lives were: Arthur Nesbitt, twenty-one; Sadie Nesbitt, eighteen; Vida Nesbitt, sixteen, and Leonard Nesbitt, ten.

The parents and younger children, Gerald, one and a half years, and Stella, five, suffered acutely from exposure, and this afternoon were confined to the home of William Swan, a relative, in Fertigkahn.

The fire broke out about 4 a.m. when all members of the family were asleep. Believed to have started from a defective chimney, the flames quickly spread, through the house and had nearly engulfed the dwelling before the smoke awakened the father and mother.

St. John, Dec. 9.—Having motored thousands of miles from a point near Calgary and towed an elaborate box-car trailer containing a horse, Tom Dooks, youthful sportsman-rancher and Cambridge University graduate, arrived here for embarkation to-day on the steamship Beaverford, bound for England. There he intends to "follow the hounds, run an odd point-to-point, show my countrymen good horses can be raised from range stock, and then probably sell the animal."

The horse won distinction as a jumper at prairie rodeos and recent Royal Winter Fair at Toronto.

CONSTITUTION OF GERMANY CHANGED

Canadian Press and Associated Press

Berlin, Dec. 9.—A bill providing that the chief justice of the Supreme Court will succeed to the presidency in event of the incumbent's incapacity passed final Reichstag reading to-day, 404 to 127.

This was more than the two-thirds majority required by the constitution. Only Communists and the German Nationalists opposed the bill.

Under the present law, the President would be succeeded by the Chancellor.

Various speakers charged the Nationalists wanted President Paul von Hindenburg to name the ex-Crown Prince as his successor and that this would be the first step toward revival of the monarchy.

MAY BE WHITE HOUSE SECRETARY

Dr. Ernest Hall Passes Away

Beloved Medical Man Had Amazingly Active and Varied Career in Human Service

His Brilliance as a Surgeon Was Outstanding

Dr. Ernest Amos Hall, C.M.E., L.R.C.P. (Edin.), F.T.M.S., died yesterday evening at 11:10 o'clock at St. Joseph's Hospital.

For the last year, this brilliant surgeon and gynaecologist, whose skill in the operating room had attracted professional attention far and wide, had been confined to the hospital, the active, highly-strung physique slowly disintegrating after years of unsparring service in the field of public and political welfare as well as meeting the demands of an amazingly extensive medical practice.

For months it has been known that there was no hope of his coming out of the hospital alive. Late yesterday he suffered his third stroke and those in attendance knew that the long-expected end had come.

Dr. Hall during the last years of his career, probably had as wide a personal acquaintance as any man ever had in Victoria. The genius of his quick brain, served by capable hands with their long, sinuous fingers, they were the fingers typical of a surgeon or an artist—had saved the lives of scores of Victorians. They and their families have been countless in their praise of the skill of "Dr. Ernest" and in their expressions of gratitude and affection towards him personally. He had an extraordinarily high percentage of success in even his most difficult surgical undertakings, characterized by amazingly rapid recoveries. The reason for this was ascribed by the profession to the fact that Dr. Hall knew his anatomy so well, was psychically so sensitive to the seat of his patients' ills and so lightning-like in carrying out the details of his operations, that his patients were spared the disadvantages of prolonged nervous shock.

Montreal, Dec. 9.—Canada is chock-full of broadcasting talent, but "with one exception perhaps, has not a comedian worth his salt," according to Hector Charlesworth, who is paying his first visit to this province since his appointment as chairman of the Canadian Radio Commission.

Despite the lack of funsters, Mr. Charlesworth, talking with newspaper reporters, was enthusiastic about his task of organizing Canada's air entertainment. "Canada is full of talent," he said. "There will be no need of obtaining foreigners for our programmes."

"But with one exception perhaps, there isn't a comedian worth a boot."

By Referring Issue to Group League of Nations Assembly Avoids Open Clash Over Small Powers' Condemnation of Japan's Course

Committee May Meet Next Monday

One Suggestion Is U.S. and Russia Be Invited to Participate in Japanese-Chinese Conciliation

Canadian Press and Associated Press

Geneva, Switzerland, Dec. 9.—The League of Nations Assembly, closing an uneventful debate on the Manchurian situation, voted to-day to refer that issue to the conciliation committee of nineteen with a request the committee report as soon as possible on proposals by the Assembly for settlement.

The Lytton report, the record of discussions in the Assembly, and all pertinent documents were passed on to the committee without comment, and thus the clash over a resolution by four small powers condemning Japan's Manchurian policy was avoided.

This procedure was regarded as a success for a policy of conciliation with the support of the big powers.

INVITATION TO UNITED STATES
Among the several proposals referred to the committee was one that the United States and Soviet Russia be invited to participate in the work of conciliation.

Then the Assembly adjourned indefinitely.

The committee of nineteen may meet next Monday.

COPPER GROUP HEAD NAMED

Sir Leslie Scott of London Is Appointed Chairman of Empire Committee

By George Hambleton, Canadian Press
Staff Writer
London, Dec. 9.—Sir Leslie Scott, K.C., who has served on many international committees dealing with varied subjects, has been appointed chairman of the copper committee formed by empire producers and consumers.

The copper committee was recently formed as a result of the Imperial Conference agreements which set forth a preference on empire copper. At the present time there is not sufficient of all grades of copper produced within the empire to meet empire demands, so it was decided to suspend the duties on copper. Other than electrolytic, until such time as the empire supply is self-sufficient.

TO ENCOURAGE PRODUCTION
The committee will study this question and others relative to the industry with a view to encouraging the production in certain countries which are not now taking the fullest advantage of the natural resources of the metal. This is in their mutual interest. The committee also stated that the empire copper must be prepared to compete with world prices and to offer the full supply required.

A member of parliament for nineteen years, during part of which time he was Solicitor-General, Sir Leslie Scott has represented the United Kingdom government at several conferences authority on property acts.

FAIL TO SETTLE RAIL DISPUTE

Directors Undecided Whether to Enforce Wage Cut in Irish Free State

Canadian Press
Dublin, Irish Free State, Dec. 9.—Directors of railway companies in the Free State, seeking a way out of wage disputes with their employees, had reached an apparent impasse to-day with a general strike called for Sunday.

The directors were unable to reach a decision whether or not to enforce a 10 per cent wage and salary reduction for all employees, which was authorized by the railway board.

Following conferences with labor members of the Dail Eireann the government was understood to have volunteered to indemnify those railways operating exclusively within the Free State for any loss they might suffer by continuing the present scales of pay.

The difficulty arose on those roads which cross the border into Northern Ireland, and which were not included in the government's offer. There seemed little likelihood the government of Northern Ireland would aid lines in its territory or be drawn into the dispute in any way.

START SEARCH FOR EXPLORER

Associated Press

Los Angeles, Dec. 9.—With the avowed intention of securing definite information concerning the fate of Col. P. H. Fawcett, British explorer who disappeared seven years ago in the Brazilian jungles, Albert de Winton, an explorer and actor, sailed yesterday for Para, Brazil.

De Winton, who recently played in motion pictures here, said he was undertaking the trip alone. On reaching South America, he said, he would employ natives and sail up the Amazon to Manaus.

Manaos, he said, was the village at which the Dyak search expedition abandoned the trail in 1928 because of hostile Indians. Col. Fawcett went into the jungles of central Brazil in 1923, hoping to unearth buried cities of ancient civilizations he believed existed there thousands of years ago. He was never seen again.

Counsel For Ten Men In Custody At Halifax Asks Stay

Appeal to Privy Council in London Planned, But Ottawa Prepares to Send Men Back to Europe

Canadian Press
Halifax, Dec. 9.—Their final appeal in Canada refused, ten alleged Communists held here for deportation requested a stay of proceedings to-day pending an appeal to the judicial committee of the Privy Council in London.

The request was made through their solicitor, L. A. Ryan, who already has defended them through four courts and in an appeal to Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration.

The minister's decision, dismissing the appeal to have set aside the orders of the immigration tribunal, was announced yesterday.

Arrested in several Canadian cities and brought to Halifax by Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the prisoners have been in the immigration detention quarters here since last May.

Shortly after their arrival they were tried before the immigration tribunal and convicted on charges of plotting against the government of Canada.

Orders for deportation were issued but applications for release of the men under the Liberty of the Subject Act. The applications were refused by Mr. Justice W. P. Carroll, and an appeal, carried to the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia and later to the Supreme Court of Canada, was dismissed.

Mr. Gordon, who had authority under the Immigration Act to review the decision of the immigration tribunal, withheld decision on a previous appeal to him until the habeas corpus action was completed.

Meanwhile the men are preparing to be shipped back to Europe. Most of them desire to go to Russia because Communists are shot in some of their native lands.

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—The ten aliens held for deportation at Halifax will be deported in due course, according to a statement issued to-day by Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration. They had appealed to the minister, and he reserved decision until judgment had been handed out in the Supreme Court, to which an appeal had also been taken. Reports from Halifax indicate the counsel for the ten men intend to carry the case to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, in London, but the department has no official intimation as to that.

SIGNED FALSE NAME; IS FINED

Port Arthur, Ont., Dec. 9.—The recent mysterious visit to the United States of Sir Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, was referred to in the Magistrate's Court here yesterday when Stanley Whalen, alleged radical leader, for arranging.

Whalen was charged with registering under a false name at a local hotel. His counsel declared the bank governor had registered under a name other than his own, but nothing was thought of it and he was not called to court.

The plea did not save Whalen. He was fined $20 and costs and ordered held in custody pending deportation proceedings.

He was recently married, being taken from his cell to the court room, where guards acted as witnesses at the ceremony.

NEW VIEW OF GOD FROM EINSTEIN

New York, Dec. 9.—Dr. Einstein's latest discoveries about the nature of space are likely to lead the world to a new conception of God, said Dr. Walter Russell yesterday evening to a meeting of the Society of Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Russell, president of the society, spoke on the question, "Will Science Verify God?"

"We are fast releasing ourselves from creeds," said Dr. Russell, "and entering into a far broader conception of the intelligence which governs the universe."

Canadian Press
Montreal, Dec. 9.—In future no broadcasting programme advertising patent medicine will be allowed on the air in Canada before receiving the sanction of the Department of Health at Ottawa, Hector Charlesworth, chairman of the new Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission, declared in a speech here yesterday.

"In this respect," Mr. Charlesworth said, "I cancelled a programme yesterday and the station was pleased at my action."

The commissioner stated the action was being taken because of the many complaints which had been received from the public.

GASPE PEOPLE DECLARED NEDDY

But Quebec Premier Says Reports of Famine Are Surprise to Him

Canadian Press
Montreal, Dec. 9.—"Famine conditions prevail in the greater part of the Gaspé section of Quebec province, with 10,000 persons on the verge of starvation and another 60,000 threatened with acute shortage of provisions for the winter months," according to a dispatch from Quebec to The Montreal Daily Star.

The dispatch continues: "Hundreds of persons who have suffered in silence for years, and who have thought themselves lucky if there were a few bags of flour and sacks of potatoes in the house for the winter months, now make almost daily pilgrimages to the homes of the clergy to ask for a few pounds of flour so their children may not starve to death, and an alarming situation exists."

Surprise was expressed by Premier Taschereau when he was asked whether the government intended taking any action in the matter, according to the dispatch. He stated that as far as he was aware the matter had not been brought to the attention of the government, and there had been "no special demand from that part of the country."

FRANK PHILLIPS, MONTREAL, DIES

Canadian Press
Montreal, Dec. 9.—Frank Phillips, news editor of The Montreal Star and one of the best known newspapermen in eastern Canada, died here yesterday. He was at one time telegraph editor of The Toronto Globe, and had also held an editorial position in Ottawa.

Mr. Phillips, a native of England, was for a time connected with newspapers in London. While he was in Ottawa the Great War broke out and Mr. Phillips joined immediately with an Ottawa unit, with which he served overseas. When he returned to Canada he lived for a short time in Vancouver, later rejoining the staff of The Toronto Globe.

REPORT SCORES TWO MINISTERS

B.C. Irrigation Districts Told of Government's Policy

Canadian Press
Vernon, B.C., Dec. 9.—Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance of British Columbia, has suggested the formation of an arbitration board of three members, one appointed by the district, one by the government and the third member acceptable to both, which board would deal with each irrigation district individually, the findings to be binding on the government and district. The idea of the arbitration board is to avoid the objection to general blanket relief which might help one district far more than another, and is apparently looked on as a favorable suggestion by Major M. V. McGuire, president of the Association of British Columbia Irrigation Districts. Major McGuire's report is especially critical of the administration of Mr. Jones and Hon. W. A. McGuire, in his report on the delegation which last week pressed unsuccessfully for the adoption of the Gadsdes report. Major McGuire said it had requested the government should put irrigation districts, mostly in the Okanagan, into such shape they could thereafter operate fairly successfully with no assistance whatsoever, and that all indebtedness as at the time the Gadsdes report was made should be cancelled.

The government refused to adopt the report or to write off any of the loans, stipulated continuance of the rates recommended by the Sanford Evans report, together with payment of 6 per cent on all loans since 1930, and stated no further loans except in cases of absolute emergency would be made.

WAS SPOKESMAN

"The government apparently had deputed Mr. McKenzie as spokesman," Mr. McGuire's report states, "and it is significant that neither Mr. Loughheed, the responsible minister, nor Mr. Jones, whose strenuous advocacy of relief when a local member would have led us to expect his staunch support, had very much to say on the subject."

The main contention urged by Mr. McGuire was that the government, in promulgating the 25 per cent relief granted to us by the former Liberal government, had fulfilled in every respect the pledges made at the Conservative convention at Kamloops in December, 1926, and elsewhere. In other words, the government has stooped so low as to accept the donorship of Mr. McGuire, and that all indebtedness as at the time the Gadsdes report was made should be cancelled.

BISHOP NAMED ON PRAIRIE

Archdeacon W. Burd Elected
Head of Anglican Saskatchewan Diocese

Canadian Press
Prince Albert, Sask., Dec. 9.—A returned soldier and a holder of the Distinguished Conduct Medal, Archdeacon Walter Burd of Prince Albert yesterday was elected first bishop of the new Anglican Diocese of Saskatchewan. Nineteen voices out of the twenty-nine cast by the clergy attending the first synod and twenty-nine out of the forty-one cast by the laymen, gave Archdeacon Burd the necessary two-thirds majority on the first ballot. He will be consecrated in three months.

Born in Cork, Ireland, February 25, 1868, Archdeacon Burd came to Canada as a student missionary in the Port Pitt area. He enrolled in Emmanuel College, Saskatoon, as a student, but within a year after arriving in Canada he found himself in the Canadian army. Service overseas with the 26th Battalion brought him the Distinguished Conduct Medal.

Returning to Canada after the war, he entered Wyllie College, Toronto, from which he was graduated. Following two years as general secretary of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, he became curate at Tisdale, Sask., in 1922, then rector the same year, canon and precentor at St. Alban's Cathedral here in 1926 and archdeacon for the northern portion of the old diocese in 1929.

BATTLE FOR AIR LINE'S CONTROL

LAMOTTE I. COHU

Control of the largest air transport system is the prize in a battle between two of the United States youngest business leaders, Lamotte I. Cohu and Errett L. Cord. The Aviation Corporation of Delaware, with air lines extending from coast to coast, is the stake in their battle of proxies. A showdown will come on December 21 at a meeting of stockholders. Cohu, president of the corporation, charges that Cord, auto manufacturer, seeks full control to Cohu may "have a controlled market for his motor products." ## Family Has Yet To See Its First Movie

Associated Press
Chicago, Dec. 9.—The strange story of an isolation so complete that none of a family of nine children has ever seen a moving picture, a street car or radio, although they have lived all their lives near Chicago, came to light yesterday. They are the children of Joseph Steff, sixty, a farmer of Wheeling, Ill., who came to the United States thirty years ago from Russia. The story was revealed when Steff applied to police to find his oldest child, Mary, twenty-three, who fled from her home. The authorities were told she left because a dove flew around her head and she regarded this as an evil omen. She was later found at the home of a neighbor. Alberta's sugar beet crop for 1932 is expected to yield nearly 50,000,000 pounds of sugar, a new record for the province.

be its high mark in the July elections of 1932.

The speaker traced the dismemberment of Von Papen and the elevation of Von Papen a representative of an old order, who by a call of nationalism, broke down to a considerable extent the power of Hitler and his patriotic appeal to Germans.

Following last July's elections Von Hindenburg had offered Hitler the post of vice-chancellor with two other portfolios which the latter had rejected. Prof. Soward noted, indicating Hitler's desire to enjoy the power of Italy's dictator.

Closing, Prof. Soward sketched the recent replacement of Von Papen by Von Schleicher, who, he believed, was trying to pass through the winter without further excessive trouble.

Miss J. Cann occupied the chair during the meeting and expressed the gathering's appreciation of the excellent address.

GERMAN CHAOS IS REVIEWED

Spasms of That Country May Be Followed By Others, Prof. F. H. Soward Thinks

Sketches Conditions Leading Up to Situation Now to Extension Group

What Germany is passing through to-day, Canada may pass through in the future if economic conditions continue to grow worse, Prof. F. H. Soward, of the history department of the University of British Columbia, told members of the University Extension Association in a comprehensive address on "Hitlerism and the German Republic" at Girls' Central School yesterday evening.

With conditions there such as they exist in no other part of the western world, the people were showing a distaste for the ordinary liberal parliamentary government and were dividing into two classes, one favoring the swing to dictatorship as indicated in the following of Hitler, and the other turning towards Communism patterned on the Russian experiment.

At present, Von Schleicher, chancellor, appeared to be striving for a truce to carry the country through the winter, in spite of opposition from the Nazis and Communists.

Prof. Soward's opinions on existing conditions were expressed following a lengthy discussion of the events and trends which led up to the present situation.

Up to a short time ago, the German Republic had been considered one of the most successful experiments in post-war Europe, Prof. Soward said. But recent events had broken down the high opinion experts had voiced on the conditions in that land and its efforts toward reconstruction.

He noted that before the war Germany had a constitution but no real form of parliamentary government.

Up to and during the greater part of the big conflict the country had been ruled by the Kaiser and his militaristic clique.

AGAINST DESPOTS

By 1918 the Socialist Radicals had begun to protest against the despotic regime and were later followed by the democrats.

Their complaints had resulted in the tightening of military dictatorship which existed until the revolution of November 1918, when their chances of winning the war were conceded lost.

The elevation of a strong liberal leader followed, but the Socialists declared their stand against him and when the army and the navy disintegrated he was forced to resign and let the Social Democrats, at that time a party corresponding to the present British Laborites, take charge.

Indignant at the harsh terms in the Treaty of Versailles, imposed through race hatred of civilians among the allied nations, the government in charge of the republic resigned and it was not until a coalition was formed the terms were accepted.

The speaker noted the use of the returning army to crush communistic opposition and to maintain a liberal government. At the next free election, although the Social Democrats polled forty-five per cent of the vote, the house was split with other minorities carrying a great influence. It was this government, he said, that had signed the Treaty of Versailles in 1919.

ON DEMOCRATIC LINES

Followed the drafting of a constitution on extremely democratic lines and inculcating the proportional representation electoral system. That system, although having its good points, did not lend itself to the formation of a strong government, he said.

It also included in its constitution Article 48, that clause which stated a president could govern by force for a period of sixty days. No one dreamed at the time the article would be used to the extent it had been, Prof. Soward said.

In the early days of the new regime it had been a struggle to keep democracy standing and uprisings by monarchists and communists alike had been crushed.

By 1920 came the organization of secret societies in which Adolf Hitler first sprang into prominence. Their work was to remove those men whom they considered traitors.

The widespread assassinations which followed caused uneasiness in Europe and led to the occupation of the Ruhr by the French in 1923. It proved a terrific blow to the Germans who suffered from a depreciating currency which finally carried the mark so far down it disappeared.

To face the writer of early Hitlerism, communistic activity and economic distress arose the statesman Gustav Stresemann, who gained the post of chancellor and later became foreign secretary for Germany. The speaker traced the progress that figure had regained for Germany and the beneficial results that had accrued to the republic.

Shortly after, von Hindenburg rose to eminence and together with Stresemann made possible the miracle of Locarno.

To Stresemann he also attributed much of the success of the Kellogg Pact and the formation of the World Court, as well as the adoption of the Young Plan.

All these steps had been taken when times were good, Prof. Soward noted, before going on to tell the evils which had befallen Germany when the economic structure of the western world collapsed.

In 1928 the unemployed of Germany totalled about 1,400,000. In March of this year that number had risen to 3,250,000, or one in ten of the population. He traced the destitution of families there, some of whom had to exist on three cents a day per head.

THE "GOLDEN PAST"

Driven by hunger, the masses began to turn their attention back to the "golden past" as indicated in the militaristic swing of Hitlerism, or to the prospects of a brighter future, as shown by their increasing interest in Communism.

Prof. Soward referred to the elevation of Brüning to the post of chancellor, but noted that any more or less moderate party he might be attached to could not find support in a Germany reduced to desperation by the abnormal times. On the defeat of his government, Brüning had invoked Article 48 and governed by decree. The decrees became more and more severe. Brüning became active internationally and the strength of Hitler in Germany increased.

The speaker sketched the career of Hitler, and Austrian with an intense dislike for his own nation. A brilliant orator and anti-Jewish and anti-union figure he organized his forces with Teutonic thoroughness, playing on the national patriotism of the people by various means of wooing a strong middle class following.

Perhaps, interjected the speaker, Einstein's willingness to go to the United States might have been a result of Hitler's anti-Jewish activity.

He spoke of Hitler's extravagant relief proposals, eloquent appeals and the attraction of forces in his movement, as grounds for the popularity of the organization. In passing, Prof. Soward remarked on the 5,000 men, political enemies, Hitler had black-listed and sought to clear away.

Hindenburg, in a test vote, had been able to beat Hitler, but the strength of the latter had shown an increase until it reached what he believed to

"He began to pick up at once and now he's talking about going to business." ## NEW BRIDGE AT HEAD OF GORGE

Craigflower Bridge to Be Replaced By Creosoted Timber and Concrete Structure

Work to Start at Beginning of Year; Day Labor Will Be Employed.

Traffic over the Craigflower bridge at the headwaters of the Gorge on the Island Highway has increased to such volume that the provincial government has decided to replace the existing structure by a modern creosoted timber and concrete bridge.

Hon. W. Bruhn, Minister of Public Works, announced that construction work on the bridge, which will be built by day labor, will be started at the beginning of the year.

Plans for the bridge, which are now being completed by the engineers of the department, call for a creosoted-pile trestle structure about 390 feet long with a twenty-foot concrete driveway and two sidewalks. The laminated timber structure will carry a reinforced concrete deck for the roadway which will be protected on either side by steel hand-rails.

The design to be followed is that developed by engineers of the department and used with singular success within the last few years. The surface appearance of the structure will be similar to that of a permanent steel bridge.

TO COST $15,000
The cost of the project will be in the neighborhood of $15,000, and with the exception of incidental steel for the hand-rails, the bridge will be of all-British Columbia materials. An all-steel bridge would have cost $35,000. Illumination of the new bridge will be provided by standards at either end and in the centre.

Materials will be assembled by the end of the year and construction put under way by January 1. The new project will provide work for a number of men under the supervision of department engineers.

The original Craigflower bridge was erected about twenty years ago, and has been renewed. The bridge is safe for traffic, but some portions of the structure are near the end of useful life, and further repairs would prove costly, the department considers.

END THOSE HEADACHES

"For two years I suffered continually from dizziness, headaches, weak stomach and bad nerves. I was very run-down and discouraged. Nothing seemed to do me any good. Fruit-a-ties . . . all drug stores will be given on the work of the association.

Owing to the cold weather the girls' auxiliary will meet to-night at the home of their leader, instead of in St. Matthew's Church.

QUEEN ADMIRES INSTITUTE WORK

Congratulates Thrifty Workers at W.I. Exhibition in London

London, Dec. 8.—When the Queen opened the exhibition of the National Federation of Women's Institutes, she saw a box which she could not buy. The exhibition, held in the Horticultural Hall, Westminster, consisted of the handwork of thousands of women all over the country. Each room contained the work of women of different counties.

COVETS BOOT-BOX
In one room the Queen was struck by a little boot-box covered in cross-stitch work.

"Oh, I do like that," she exclaimed. "Can I buy it?"

Her Majesty was told that the exhibitors were not allowed to sell anything in the exhibition, and with a smile she passed on. Two minutes later she was back again having another look at the little box.

"I should so like it," she murmured. The exhibitors, not wishing to break the rule concerning the sale of exhibits, but anxious that the Queen should have the box, were still discussing the situation when Her Majesty left. After the exhibition was over the box was sent to the Queen.

RUG-MAKER PRAISED
"My housekeeper at Sandringham does this work," the Queen explained to Lady Denman and Lady Listowel at a demonstration of rearing of chairs and stools.

The Queen watched Mrs. Garner making a rug from old stockings, pieces of old coats, dresses, scarfs, trousers, children's petticoats and pyjamas, shook hands with her and congratulated her on her thrift.

A photograph of one of these rugs is included in a portfolio of the work of the Women's Institutes presented to the Queen.

The Queen, who wore a gown and toque of tulle, was a spectator at a demonstration of mattress stuffing by cottage women, with wool picked off the hedges and feathers from farmyard fowls.

Six rooms furnished by women entirely without the help of husbands, fathers or brothers were examined by the Queen, who felt the hand-made mattresses and handled the cutlery and spoons and pottery.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Fruits appear in the child's diet during the second month of his life. The nursing baby is not dependent upon fruits for any essential element as is the bottle-fed baby. He benefits, though, by being introduced to these new and different flavored juices.

ORANGE AND TOMATO JUICE
The first fruit offered is usually orange juice or its substitute, tomato juice. Both of them are rich in vitamin C, the element which is diminished so materially when milk is boiled, pasteurized, or canned, and the element which baby must have if he is to escape scurvy.

The strained juice of sweet oranges is given in small amounts, well diluted with water, and increased in amount until the juice of half an orange is included in the diet of the six-month-old baby and the juice of the whole orange in that of the one-year-old. Twice as much strained tomato juice is used in place of the orange juice.

PRUNES AND APPLES
There are other fruits permissible in the infant's diet, but the above two are the only ones which can be relied upon to furnish as much of the vitamin C element as the bottle baby needs.

When constipation is a constant factor, prune juice or even prune pulp may be extremely helpful. Applesauce or ripe scrapes of apple are excellent for the same purpose.

The banana is one of the most valuable of the fruits, its position in the diet being that of both a fruit and a cereal. It is used in place of the cereal, and may be invaluable when cereal causes any digestive disturbance, with eczema resulting.

SCHOOL SALARY REDUCTION
North Vancouver, Dec. 9 (Canadian Press).—All employees of the city school board will receive a further salary reduction of 10 per cent, under a decision made by the board yesterday evening. Approximately seventy employees—teachers, janitors and clerks—will be affected by the reduction, which will be effective January 1, 1933, and continue throughout the year. Should the proposed provincial government salary schedule be put into effect, however, the rate of pay will be revised to conform with it.

During the last half of the first year, children may have ripe, fresh peach juice, sliced pears, pineapple juice, grapefruit juice and even fresh strawberry juice when in season. The juice of canned fruit is often just a sugar syrup poured over the cooked fruit, and so has no particular benefits for the children. The juice referred to above means the juice of the raw or cooked, mashed and strained fruits themselves.

For older children whose diet of fresh raw foods is so varied that there need be no daily insistence upon orange juice, the cooked, dried fruits which have been made tender by long hours of soaking and slow cooking (peaches and prunes are usable. The first two are not readily sliced and so do not lend themselves, as do prunes, to the infant's feeble digestive abilities. It is obvious that this is a large variety of fruits with which to vary the diet, much larger than the mother wedded firmly to the idea of orange juice—is inclined to suspect.

THREE HUSBANDS FROM ONE FAMILY

Mrs. Harryette Post DeTarr, above, believes in keeping her husbands all in one family. Her marriage to the third DeTarr brother, following divorces from two, has been revealed. The heiress to a large Denver estate is honeymooning in Los Angeles with Beverly K. DeTarr, who twice had been her brother-in-law. Previously she had been married, and divorced from James M. DeTarr of San Francisco and Noble A. DeTarr of Wilmington, Del. Her third husband is the youngest of seven DeTarr brothers.

"ENGLISH EMIL JANNINGS" IS TITLE MOOTED FOR ACTOR CHARLES LAUGHTON

By ROBERT GRANDON

Hollywood, Dec. 9.—Introduced to Charles Laughton down at Coconut Grove last evening... So was Mrs. Bob... and believe me, both of us were quite charmed with the personality of the man; it's as pronounced off the screen as on it.

Quite English is Laughton... He decided so... though they tout him as the "English Emil Jannings" with Bogie Man Karloff. And then he did Nero and had a fine time twanging a lyre while he burned up ancient Rome.

He's soft spoken... loves his English home and longs for it now. He's in his late thirties and plays roles much older... Born in England, he decided he'd be a hotel keeper. Went so far as to become a clerk, but war came along and when it was ended, Charles found himself an actor.

AROUND THE TOWN with Mistress Pepys

Thursday, Dec. 8.

A cold, frosty, blustery night and past 1 o'clock myself have not seen a wink of sleep this night—me-fine! Men never ever make a great ado if they be a little indisposed—Samuel note they have a sale at 60c of their engaging boxes of fine notepaper, with silhouette covers, protected by cellophane, so that they may be framed for a wall plaque. Now so favored by the fashion. Do see excellent array of fountain pens and pencils in their windows, and ever a delightful display of gifts to please young and old—gay and demure.

To the Belfast Linen Company on Douglas Street—where the old spinning wheel and the fine spun linen do give us to recall the days of old and to marvel anew that such fascinating linens, with so great an amount of handwork, can be sold at so small sums. Ever housewives love fine linens. This breakfast set of three pieces, beautifully embroidered with colored applique, is but $1.25, and cut work and embroidered linen, tray-cloths for as little as 55c. These are unique and dainty Chinese grass linen cloths, hand embroidered in colors, with four napkins, $1.98.

Down Douglas Street to McMartin's Leather Goods on Yates Street! 'Tis a pleasure to look over their wide selection. Mistress Castlemaine doth buy a traveling case for a friend from their selection of "Aeropacks," "Pakies," and "Voguerobes." Methinks she'll be mightily pleased in that she set of hangers and clever construction will keep her frocks fresh and uncrumpled. Do see many additions to their counter of useful novelties—needcases, alarm clock and dresser accessories, calendars, a flat clothes brush in leather case and many other traveling aids.

Just a block to Love's on View Street, a step off Douglas, for a neighbor did tell me what adorable selection of brasserie and pantie sets hath but just there arrived. At $1.49 to $1.95 find tailored sets blue cut with tiny lucks for trimming, heavy craycheer, Alencon lace trimmed—the same lace doth trim dainty silk dainty sets. Attracted by costume jewelry counter near by. 'Tis surprising what one can buy from 75c to $1.50.

Home by 4, having finished my shopping with dispatch—alright Samuel, aggrieved that I did leave him so long!—Lal methinks he hath recovered—he is up and doth talk of listening to the election returns.

Walking past the windows of Period Arts in the corner of Belmont House, what a surprise to find Alice and the White Rabbit on a nursery plate—A unique collection of nursery ware have they. Nothing loath to be drawn within by my companion, who would buy her niece, but newly married, a bijou set of this Crown Ducal china—it doth serve as breakfast, lunch or tea set of twenty pieces for four persons, and 'tis fine ware, forsooth—moreover, it can always be added to. She doth buy set at $4.75. Must see these quaint art deco figures anon.

'Tis as methought—this cold weather hath given our townsmen to flock to Foster's big removal sale on Government Street—even Master Alexander's wide selection hath limits and 'twere better they did not delay too long. 'Tis a rare opportunity when luxurious furs can be bought at such great discounts. Do see Mister and Mistress Whyte within—'tis evident he's buying her a fur coat for Yuletide gift. Victoria's winters, methinks, do ever warrant wearing fur, and, forsooth, 'tis flattering and doth make an economical evening wrap.

They love foolish little rhymes and jingles. They love what seems to us, senseless talk and even senseless banter—anything with a lilt and a laugh in it. They outgrow it soon enough.

"Oh, my fur and whiskers! It was the White Rabbit!"

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

SALTED NUTS ARE EASILY PREPARED
By SISTER MARY

Excellent salted nuts are available at many shops, but some of us like to salt our own—thereby enjoying the exact degree of saltiness we individually prefer.

There are three ways to make salted nuts—by roasting in the oven, pan-frying and deep-fat frying. For all nuts except peanuts the roasting process produces a more crisp and tender nut than either of the other methods.

All nuts, with a tough outer skin like almonds must be blanched after shelling and before salting.

To blanch nuts, pour over boiling water to more than cover them and let stand five minutes or until the skins slip easily. Rub or pinch off the skins. Drain as thoroughly as possible in a colander and then spread on a dry linen towel, place another towel over and pat dry. If convenient let stand several hours.

Peanuts for salting should be purchased raw. Olive oil or butter gives the best flavor to the nuts, although any good cooking oil is usually used for deep-fat frying. Butter is excellent for roasting.

To prepare nuts for roasting, "paint" the insides of a bowl with oil or

Glorifying Yourself

By ALICIA HART

TIPS FOR KEEPING HANDS IN TRIM
In Paris they are wearing blood red fingernail enamel, clear to the tip of the nail.

Not so attractive, you may say. But certainly something different! There are new nail enamels that have platinum, gold or silver tones. They make your fingers twinkle as you move them this way and that. Whatever kind of enamel you use, however, you use it, be sure that your hands are scrupulously clean and stay that way. Nothing is worse than a much-manicured but slightly soiled hand.

One little trick that should be the last minute thought of the glamorous lady is to tuck a drop of your favorite perfume in the palm of your hand just as you leave for the party.

The perfume is gone but the fragrance lingers on, giving you just another touch of charm.

This winter, afternoon parties as

Week-end MURDER

GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

Across from Marvin was the Irishman. A contrast if ever she had seen one! In that mobile, charming, graceless face she read no hint of discipline or will. Weak he must be with that chin and those lovely, pointed fingers. Delightful, alive, entertaining, he undoubtedly was, judging from the chorus of encouragement with which his simplest sallies were greeted. Even Tom was forgetting his responsibilities in charmed delight over the great overgrown boy of a man. Linda wondered what he'd been talking about to bring to all those faces that look of amusement, enchantment, surprise. Now the tossed ball of conversation had been flung the length of the table and all were keeping it in the air. Africa—curious that that one word should prove the case to set them afire! She caught herself back. Mr. Stander held the floor. She would not repeat her earliest mistake. He was fairly launched on a travelogue. Linda suspected that the man had no small talk; with him it was a centre of attention or nothing. She followed him to India and there the Irishman suddenly cut in with an apostrophe to Gandhi and what seemed to start a hymn of praise to all rebels, leaders and prophets of the rights of submerged peoples.

"Now the fat is in the fire!" breathed Linda. A look of despair flashed between her and her husband as Cousin Amos, ominously clearing his throat, plunged with scandalous conservatism into the very heart of a glowing period.

"Right-thinking people," Linda recognized the pompous phrase and as from a distance heard Cousin Amos call upon all the gods of stability and established order. He paused not for a reply because he was not conscious of there being any to make. He was not discussing. With definite unequivocal clearness he was reproving Amos's limited experience. Had confirmed his belief in his own rightness and that of the opinions to which he had been born. Now Shaughnessy had doubly aimed in his impertinent upstart. All of Cousin Amos's limited experience had confirmed his belief in his own rightness and that of the opinions to which he had been born. Now Shaughnessy had doubly aimed in his impertinent upstart. All of Cousin Amos's limited experience had confirmed his belief in his own rightness and that of the opinions to which he had been born.

Linda winced as Cousin Amos expressed the contempt of the Brahmin for the outcast. If ever she saw a Bolshevik, she had often thought, he would be said to be intolerant of thought more than his own. He simply wiped all shades of it out of existence. His offence was not lessened by the fact that he called the other "Mr. Shaughnessy" and twice "Mr. O'Shea."

"In fact, my dear sir, your comment shows clearly an undisciplined and confused mind—exactly the mentality, I may say, which has demanded that the immeasurable superiority of Anglo-Saxon race exert a salutary supervision over the childishly incompetent peoples—for their own good, needless to say, of the world."

"For their own good, is it?" roared the Irish giant, unable apparently to endure Cousin Amos's trick of climactic repetition. "And what do you say to massacring rivers of blood and innocent children murdered in their beds and starving?"

"I say nothing, nothing," said Cousin Amos primly. "In fact, I decline to discuss absurd generalities with one incapable."

But his voice was a feeble warning on the wind, for his opponent had paused for no reply to his rhetorical question. Recalled from his first shock, Lian Shaughnessy plunged with gusto into the battle. Logic he had none nor, Linda observed, any tolerance than Cousin Amos. But the sweep of his rich vocabulary and his poetic fervor to say nothing of his voice which under the stress of excitement rivaled the Bull of Bashan's except the discussion from his own restless island, straight across Europe to the no less restless East. By sheer spate of words he might have won, had he not been so unwise as to quote disparagingly a supposed official order to English troops in India.

Instantly he met flat contradiction from Stander, speaking with the curt brevity of a school officer to an inferior or of a schoolmaster—and a bad-tempered one—to the class. The direct challenge of personal knowledge (the man did seem to know India and recent happenings there) might have checked Shaughnessy had not his temper been lashed so high.

Undaunted, he took on this new opponent, rushing down with fiery invective the rain of concrete facts with which the middle western assailed him. At last Marvin Pratt, whose gasping from had turned first toward one contestant, then to the other, as an anecdote of the Khyber Pass and his own experiences in the Himalayas. Tom deferentially asked Stander for the curt brevity of a school officer to an inferior or of a schoolmaster—and a bad-tempered one—to the class. The direct challenge of personal knowledge (the man did seem to know India and recent happenings there) might have checked Shaughnessy had not his temper been lashed so high.

"Why will Cousin Amos start setting people right on the slightest provocation?" she thought, remembering similar unhappy occasions. "However, both these men egged him on. First I thought they all had travel in common and now I can add something else—terrible temper."

Then she remembered that one voice remained unheeded. She turned, half-laughing, to the man on her right. He was looking not at her, but at the still smoldering combatants, and utter contempt, unmasked, etched his

Uncle Wiggily and the Snow

By HOWARD R. GARIS

When Uncle Wiggily and the jolly elf were in the woods looking for a Christmas tree and when the Weasel popped out to catch the rabbit, all of a sudden, as I told you in the story last week, she rushed a number of tiny creatures.

"They are the Christmas gnomes!" said the elf, while the Weasel, taken by surprise, didn't know what to do. He crouched down looking at Mr. Longears.

"What are Christmas gnomes?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Christmas gnomes are a sort of Christmas fairy or Christmas elf," said the jolly little chap who had blown his horn, once, to drive away the Fox.

"Are they friends of yours?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Of course they are!" answered the elf. "We work together for Sam."

Then, all of a sudden, the elf remembered that he had a secret to keep from Uncle Wiggily, and he stopped short.

They rushed at the Weasel.

"Ah, ha!" chuckled Mr. Longears. "I'm nearer than ever to guessing your secret. The Uncle Wiggily remembered he had promised not to speak of the elf's secret to the rabbit gentleman, also, stopped short and he and the jolly elf looked at each other and laughed. In addition, Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose."

But what about saving me from the Weasel? asked Mr. Longears for the jolly, Bad Chap had only stopped for the moment. The next moment he might be rushing at the rabbit.

"The Christmas gnomes will save you," said the elf.

"Are you sure?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Certainly," answered the jolly elf. "Ho, my Christmas gnomes friends! I'm nearer than ever to guessing your secret. The Uncle Wiggily remembered he had promised not to speak of the elf's secret to the rabbit gentleman, also, stopped short and he and the jolly elf looked at each other and laughed. In addition, Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose."

this time, for he never came to see Mr. Longears.

Then, all of a sudden, it began to snow very hard. Down sifted the white flakes out of the sky and Uncle Wiggily said:

"Oh, this will make my rheumatism pain me. Oh, I'm caught in the snow and I can't see my way home to my bungalow. Oh, Oh, dear!"

"Never mind," spoke the jolly elf. "Come with me. We can take shelter with the Christmas gnomes under the green trees and wait for the snow to stop!"

So the rabbit hopped under a cozy, green bower and if the kitchen sink doesn't gurgle when it's full of water and pretend to be a radio crooner, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the ornaments.

Horoscope

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1932

Good and adverse planetary influences conflict today according to astrology. It is a time for finishing what is well begun and then enjoying week-end relaxation. Under this planetary government work may be distasteful and the inclination to seek amusement may be strong. Self-discipline is important.

Women are subject to unfavorable aspects that may incline them to be fickle and exacting. It is a way conducive to friendships, but perilous for romance.

Girls may manifest a costly interest in the plans of the stars which is ill-profitable for imposters, turners, jewelers and milliners.

The planets encourage feeling and widespread friendships. All the plans appear to prosper, returning prosperity.

Lawyers, heads of colleges and leaders in public affairs are under a fortunate sway making for widespread influence.

The planetary government favors governors of states, movers of cities and persons who have authority affecting large numbers of people.

Hospitality is subject to the best possible direction of the stars, inclining to small and intimate entertainments.

There is a sign believed to foreshadow much serious and economic questions. Lecturers as well as writers should beware. A crisis is ahead, a warning against indifference to human suffering.

Every sort of hospital comes under a rule that seems to command generous aid of persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of affluence. Pleasure and wealth will unite in providing impulses toward social contacts.

Children born on this day probably will be generous as well as inclined to extravagance. Subjects of this sign usually marry young. They are much interested in their fellow beings.

Those who have celebrated it as a birthday since Daniel Appleton, 1783, publisher Melvil Dewey, 1851, noted librarian, and Edward Livingston, 1857, writer.

A large deposit of black granite found recently on the border line between Antigonish and Guysboro counties, Nova Scotia, is being opened up and promises a new mineral industry for the province.

The investment in Canadian mineral producing industries, including operating mines, smelters, refineries, oil and gas fields, clay products plants, cement mills, sand and gravel properties and stone quarries, is estimated at $842,060,020 on 1931 data.

GOLD USE RARE IN PAYMENTS

British Obligations in the U.S. Settled Chiefly in Government Obligations

To Meet December 15 Payment, Would Require Shipping 158 Tons of Specie

New York, Dec. 9.—Of the $1,351,720,000 of principal and interest Great Britain has paid to this country on her war debt since the debt-funding agreement of 1923, only $276,547,164 has been in actual cash in the form of cheques for New York funds, while the remaining $1,075,172,835 has been in United States government securities and the accrued interest thereon, purchased at a discount in the market. Britain has never shipped gold for this specific purpose.

The present discussion of a possible shipment of about 158 tons of gold to this country as Britain's only means of meeting the payment of $95,550,000 due on December 15 has raised the question of how that country was able in the past to remit promptly the payments due without having recourse to gold shipments and in what fashion the various payments were made.

In no case was gold tendered, although it often occurred that gold shipments from Great Britain to this country were made in the latter part of the year to settle Britain's adverse balance of payments and, of course, the necessity of paying the war debt was an important factor in turning the balances against the United Kingdom.

ACCOUNTS ARE EXCHANGED

Under normal conditions, however, British citizens acquire title to dollar balances in substantial amounts each year through the sale in this market of British-made goods. For example in 1931 they sold $61,000,000 worth of goods here while the war debt payments for that year amounted to only $23,000,000. In the normal course of international trade British business men who receive dollars for the goods they sell here trade them with American business men and others who have received pounds and want dollars, so that in the end each one gets payment in his own currency through the medium of the foreign exchange market.

As long as there were British merchants with dollars they wanted to sell for pounds or American merchants who wanted to buy pounds for business purposes in exchange for dollars it was a simple matter for the British treasury to take some of the pounds sterling which it raised internally by taxation and purchase the dollars it needed for debt payment in the foreign exchange market.

The difficulty at present is that British merchants have not for some time sold the United States much goods. In 1931 they sold only $17,000,000 worth here and in the first half of this year only $8,750,000 worth. Although this year war debt payment alone amounts to nearly $90,000,000 at the current rate of exchange, if the British cannot get dollars through the sale of their goods, it follows that the only other way they can get them is by the shipment of gold here and purchase of dollars with the gold.

In the past it was the practice of the British Treasury to maintain on deposit with J. P. Morgan & Co. a dollar balance equal roughly to about one cent of a cheque on the war debt payment. From time to time as the opportunity offered, Messrs. Morgan & Co. acting as fiscal agents for the British government, would purchase United States government securities that were selling at less than par, and when the time for the war debt payment arrived these securities would be tendered to the treasury at par, in accordance with the terms of the war-debt agreement.

CASH PAID IN RECENT SETTLEMENTS

Thus on a number of occasions only a few dollars in cash (in one case only $7 cents) was tendered to make up the exact difference between the securities tendered and the total amount of the payment. It was not until June, 1930, that a payment entirely in cash was necessary because no "governments" were available in the market at less than par. The two succeeding payments, those of December, 1929, and June, 1931, likewise had to be made in cash.

Following is a summary of the payments made by Great Britain and the manner in which they were made:

1929, June, $39,000,000 paid entirely in Treasury certificates; December, $92,000,000, of which $141,927 was in cash and the remainder in United States government securities.

1931, June, $69,000,000, of which $70 was in cash and the remainder in Treasury 3 1/2 per cent notes; December, $93,000,000 in various government securities.

1932, June, $69,000,000 paid entirely in securities, $69,000,000 being 3 1/2 per cent Treasury certificates of indebtedness and $4,000,000 a per cent certificates of indebtedness; December, $93,000,000 in various government securities plus interest.

1927, June, $69,000,000, of which $37 was in cash and the remainder in various government securities; December, $93,000,000 paid in Treasury 4 1/2 per cent notes due on the date of the payment.

1928, June, $67,000,000, of which $13.30 was paid in cash and the rest in 3 1/2 per cent notes; December, $94,000,000, of which $21 was in cash and the rest in various government securities.

1930, June, $95,000,000 paid entirely in cash; December, $94,000,000, also paid in cash.

1931, June, $69,000,000, paid in cash.

The payments, whether in cash or in securities, were made by Messrs. Morgan and Company, through the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Where cash was paid it was in the form of a cheque to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York and where United States Government securities were presented, title was transferred to the Reserve Bank.

DOLLARS TO BE PURCHASED

At present payment if it is to be made, will not be in cash because United States Government securities are available in the case of the low-coupon issues, at 2 to 3 points below par, making possible a substantial saving. If the British Treasury decides to ship gold it will unquestionably use the gold to buy dollars from the Federal Reserve Bank and use the dollars to buy United States Treasury 3 1/2 or 3 3/4, which are selling below par.

As to the necessity for a shipment of gold there is sharp difference of opinion, but bankers informed on the matter can see no other way open. They point out that all British dollar balances in this market do not amount to more than $100,000,000, of which less than half belongs to the British Treasury, while against these balances American banks and business houses have balances in London of about $80,000,000, leaving net British dollar balances here of only $20,000,000. Even if the British Treasury should apply all its holdings of dollars, it would barely meet half of the December payment of $95,550,000. While the holdings of the Exchange Equalization Fund would be depleted, leaving sterling exchange at the mercy of speculators.

If Britain decides to make the payment, according to the prevailing view in Wall Street, she will probably ship gold at the last minute, obtaining from bankers here a credit against the gold in transit. Such a credit, of course, would involve no risk since the bankers would be reimbursed as soon as the gold arrived and it could therefore be set up over night. Having arranged for the credit the British Treasury would instruct its agents here to buy up sufficient United States Government securities to meet the payment.

The cost of such a procedure would, however, be heavy. At present the Bank of England holds gold in the amount of $140,000,000 (approximately $700,000,000). Payment of the December war debt installment would require about $20,000,000 gold (it would take at current rates of ex-

WILL SANTA PASS HER BY?

A doll, just a raggedy one, would brighten her Christmas. For she is one of those wistful little figures to be found pressing their noses against the shop windows these days—and turning away with tears in their eyes. Many organizations are now raising funds in Victoria, so that she, and many like her, will know there is a Santa Claus on Christmas morning.

ISLAND TREES FOR YULETIDE

Over 350,000 Christmas Trees Rolling to United States For Holiday

Seventy-two railway freight cars of Christmas trees have this year been shipped from Vancouver Island to all parts of the United States. Each car contained an average of 5,000 trees and it is estimated that the work of cutting, packing and load the 350,000 trees has provided 300 men with seasonal work carrying a fair rate of pay.

Carlot shipments have been made this year from Cobble Hill, Duncan, Ladysmith, Chemainus, Port Alberni, Nanaimo and Courtenay. Most of the trees traveled by the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway, only one car originating in the territory of the Canadian National Railway. First shipments left on November 15 and the last were dispatched this week.

The trees are mostly young fir seedlings. They have been consigned to points of central distributing ports in the southern and middle United States, Florida and California being the destination of several cars.

Most of the business has been managed by three large wholesale concerns, which let sub-contracts in each district in which supplies were obtained.

CITY MAINTAINS RELIEF STAND

Committee Fixes Policy on Allowance Cuts; Dispute Government Figures

Prior to receiving a delegation against the cut in relief allowances this afternoon, the relief committee of the City Council held a two-hour session in Mayor Leeming's office this morning to discuss the situation.

The committee decided the city should reaffirm its stand of referring all relief complaints to the provincial government, which is holding the allowance at the figure set by Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance.

Mayor Leeming was in communication with Premier Tomin during the morning and quarrelled with a government statement that relief allowances in British Columbia are generous by comparison with other provinces.

Figures have been obtained, the mayor said, from relief departments in prairie states showing the amount of relief given to a man and wife and two dependents the following allowance, according to the information secured, are made in the named regions: $47.50 a month; Moose Jaw, $39.50 a month; Winnipeg, $44.00 a month; Calgary, $42 a month.

The Jones scale, it is stated, allows a $24.50 maximum for a man and wife and two dependents, covering all items, including shelter, fuel, food, light, and water.

Victory For Decency in Civic Elections, He Says; Andros Wishes Him Luck

In expressing his appreciation of the support given him at the polls yesterday, Mayor David Leeming this morning spoke briefly of the problems facing the city administration next year, and said the utmost co-operation of all citizens was required to tide the city over the economic crisis.

"By their ballot," he said, "the people of Victoria showed they stood for decency in civic elections. I regard the vote as showing the same sense of our electors in this matter as they did in the passage of our big loan by-law earlier in the year."

"I would like to point out now that the year ahead of us, from present appearances, may be, if anything, more difficult than the year just passing, and it will require the utmost attention and perseverance on the part of the 1933 council if they wish to preserve the city on a sound financial basis."

To those people who are interested in clean government and careful administration of the city's finances I appeal for support in the difficult year ahead."

He expressed thanks to the friends who had worked on his behalf, and said he intended to work in harmony with the council to the best of his ability, supported by efficient staffs in all departments of the civic service.

The announcement of the funeral arrangements will be made later.

An engineer who came to Kitchener from Toronto yesterday admitted the experiment showed Fedy "had something" and that engineers are excited and interested. The young inventor is going to Montreal to demonstrate his equipment there before divulging the secret of its workings.

He visualized a central transmitting station in Kitchener which would broadcast electrical energy to heat and light homes in the city and in the surrounding country for a radius of 100 miles.

An aerial on the roof of a house, similar to radio antennae, would take the power from the air, he said.

A receiving outfit could be manufactured to sell for as little as $5, the minister said, and he had secured financial backing in Toronto to the extent of $30,000.

For two years after he graduated from St. Jerome College here, Fedy worked as an insurance agent, "just to pay expenses," so he could continue his experiment in the privacy of his boarder-house bedroom. Last July he met with an automobile accident which rendered him blind for a month. His eyesight is not yet completely restored, but he has finished his invention.

San Francisco, Dec. 9.—Emerson Watts, former state treasurer of New Mexico, wanted in that state on a charge of embezzling approximately $75,000, was held in San Francisco jail to-day for New Mexico officials. Found here yesterday evening, shabbily dressed and at times incoherent, he was arrested on a John Doe warrant, and booked "en route to Los Angeles," a holding charge. Later identified by police, he was held to-day as a fugitive from justice.

His arrest ended a nation-wide search of four months. Watts, who was apparently on the verge of collapse, told officers he was on his way to the veterans' bureau to seek help among the nations to regulate these fluctuations was the only way in which this condition could be rectified.

Young Kitchener Man States Device to Carry Electrical Energy Without Wires Success; Engineers See Demonstration

Kitchener, Ont., Dec. 9.—Two years of experimenting have resulted in his discovery of a method to transmit electric power long distances without wires, according to twenty-two-year-old Frank Fedy.

Fedy, a former insurance agent, to-day said he had demonstrated his equipment for engineers in Toronto this week and that his apparatus functioned perfectly. Power broadcast from his transmitting stations was picked up two blocks distant, he said.

An engineer who came to Kitchener from Toronto yesterday admitted the experiment showed Fedy "had something" and that engineers are excited and interested. The young inventor is going to Montreal to demonstrate his equipment there before divulging the secret of its workings.

Armed Bandits Loot Store; Bandits Meet Disappointment at Safe

Vancouver, Dec. 9.—Two armed youths escaped with $20 from the cash register in the Red and White Store on Beach Avenue yesterday evening when they held up Miss Dorothy Halling, clerk.

One of the gunmen kept Miss Halling covered with his revolver while his accomplice punched open the cash register and scooped out the money. Both men then ran through the front door and disappeared.

A pair of shoes comprised the loot obtained by a shoplifter from the Fashion Shoe Store on Granville Street.

While A. Scott, manager, was serving a customer in the yard of the Fletcher Lumber Company, Main Street, a sneak thief looted the cash drawer of $22. The safe door had also been opened and a cash drawer had been pulled out, but there was no money in it.

Boston Bruins Re-establish Themselves in National Hockey

New Centre Ice Division Makes Club Much More Powerful

New "Seven Straight" System of Race Wagering Discovered

THERE HAVE BEEN so many new developments in the National Hockey League this season that it may have been overlooked that the Boston Bruins have equipped themselves with a completely new triple centre-ice division. With "Red" Beattie apparently right again, after a year's absence through a broken leg, and scoring goals regularly in early game, Manager Art Ross has a great array of centre-ice men of contrasting styles. Beattie is shifty, fast and tricky; Neil Stevenson is leisurely in style but dynamite inside the opposing blue lines and the veteran Billy Burch can still flash lots of good hockey and packs one of the hardest shots in the game.

The Bruins have started well in the hard fight to re-establish themselves, after hockey's most amazing upset last winter when they crashed from the pinnacle of stardom to the lowest depths. For the first time in many years the mighty machine of the Bruins finished out of the playoffs. Sunday reasons were advanced for Boston downfall and every player from goalie "Tiny" Thompson out got the blame in turn.

But there were real reasons for the Bruins' collapse. One of these was the failure of Beattie to take the ice. The previous season he had been the star of the Boston forward division. That robbed Boston of a great pivot man, and at the same time left injuries to Weiland took from that little star much of his effectiveness. Bruins are in the race this season with one of the most physically powerful teams in the game and are likely to annex the "Big Rough Tough" title that has been held for years by the Montreal Maroons.

Discovery of a new race track, wagersing system that promises sensational results has been announced by officials of the Agua Caliente Jockey Club. The system will be known as the "Seven Straight" enormous stakes, through an accumulation of pools will result. It will be introduced at the Mexican track on opening day, December 25, and featured daily.

The aim of the system will be to pick seven straight winners on a single afternoon. The club at the outset, will guarantee $5,000 to anyone naming seven winners. The player will make his special ticket, which will be purchased at the same cost as an ordinary mutual ticket. If he picks all seven he gets $5,000. However, if no person sweeps the pool, the prize at stake next day. Thus, in three or four days it is possible for the pool to reach $20,000, which amount then becomes the prize at stake for the person picking "Seven Straight."

There is no limit to the limit of the pool. If, one week before the closing of the meet on March 19, there exists a large pool from the "Seven Straight" betting it will be returned to the public in the following manner: For example, if the pool totals $210,000; this will be split seven ways, $30,000 to each race. This $30,000 will then be divided three ways and added $10,000 straight, $10,000 place and $10,000 show for every race run that day. Gigantic prizes will result.

Moose Jaw Juniors Confident For Final

Western Canada Champions Hoping to Lift Canadian Title in Deciding Battle With Toronto Varsity Tomorrow; Lost Close Decision Last Year

Toronto, Dec. 9.—Young Mister Allan Wilson, the boy coach from the prairies who doesn't fool when he brings a football team east, arrived in Toronto this morning in tow of Moose Jaw Maroons, almost as persistent challengers for the Canadian junior title as Regina Roughriders are for the senior championship. The springy outfit of youths who

Paul Haynes' Lone Goal Gives Maroons Victory Over Toronto Leafs

Two Goalies In Fine Exhibition

Rangers Down Americans 3 to 1; Ottawa and Chicago Hawks Winners

Eddie Gerard's speeding Montreal Maroons and the colorful New York Rangers to-day perched on top of the National Hockey League's two groups.

The Maroons took command of the Canadian division with a close 1 to 0 decision over Toronto and Rangers stick handled to a 3 to 1 triumph over their intra-city rivals, New York Americans, Ottawa swung into a tie with the ousted Leafs for second place by winning 2 to 0 from Canadians in another of yesterday evening's four-game programme. Chicago broke their bottom half deadlock with Detroit, and went into a tie with Boston for second place in the American group by defeating the Red Wings 3 to 1.

Slim Paul Haynes flashed through with another of his most timely goals for Maroons' win at Montreal. Fred (Bun) Cook, clever Ranger left-winger, led his team to conquest of the Americans. His goal in the first period stood up until the third period started, when Ronnie Martin tied it up. Bun Cook promptly shot his team into the lead again, and Cecil Dillon, with the help of Art Somers, made it sure with another goal.

REVEREND BRILLIANT

Backed by the brilliant work of Ripley Beveridge in the nets, Ottawa Senators downed the visiting Canadians, who sunk deeper into the cellar as a result. Beveridge, replacing the injured Alex Connell, turned back every effort of the habitués, while Gus Forslund and Cooney Weiland sank the game-winning goals behind George Harnsworth.

Chicago retained their unbeaten record against the attack of the Red Wings, aided by the brilliant display by Chuck Gardiner in the nets. Don Romnes took a pass from "Mush" March, to give the Hawks a lead in the second period. Bostrum's effort added another in the third, and Lola Couture took Paul Thompson's pass for the final goal.

Frank Carson, grey-haired Detroit winger, robbed Gardiner of a shut-out by scoring in the last ten seconds of the game. He took a relayed pass from Herb Lewis and Eddie Goodfellow for the score.

Associated Press Chicago, Dec. 9.—Chicago Black Hawks kept clean their record of not losing at home, by defeating Detroit Red Wings, 3 to 1, in their National League hockey battle yesterday evening. The Wings were outplayed most of the way, and scored their goal in the last ten seconds.

The first Chicago goal was scored in the second period by Doc Romnes on a pass from Mush March. Helge Bostrum got the next one on a solo, and the last was a present, goalie John Ross Roach having been derailed while his mate tried to score. Lola Couture made it.

The work of Gardiner was a feature of the game. After an early season slump, this sturdy guardian continued yesterday evening in the unbeatable form that has marked his last couple of games.

First period—No score. Penalties: Evans. Second period—1, Chicago, Romnes (March), 25. Penalties, Ripley. Third period—2, Chicago, Bostrum, 12:30; 3, Chicago, Couture (Thompson), 19:50. Penalties, Carson (Goodfellow), 19:50. Penalties, none.

New York, Dec. 9.—New York Rangers took the lead in the American division of the National Hockey League yesterday evening by defeating their intra-city rivals, Toronto Leafs, 3 to 1.

Wilson thought his team would make a "pretty good showing" when they bumped into University of Toronto in the Canadian final to-morrow at Varsity Stadium. After Maroons had lost a heart-breaking decision a year ago to Woodstock Grads in the east-west junior grid classic, Allan promised he would be back. He has kept this promise and hopes Varsity isn't too powerful to frustrate his greatest ambition.

It was a sloppy morning for Toronto, but the Maroons don't care particularly if the field is hard and there's a little bit of snow to-morrow. They have done most of their recent practicing in near zero weather.

PAUL HAYNES AND BUN COOK TOP SCORERS

Members of Montreal Maroons and N.Y. Rangers Set Pace in N.H.L.

Close Race Features Both Divisions; Walsh and Thompson Lead Goalies

Paul Haynes, Montreal Maroons, and Fred (Bun) Cook, New York Rangers, were to-day the leading scorers in the two divisions of the National Hockey League. Haynes, youthful centre of the Maroons, had collected five goals and four assists to lead the Canadian section, while Cook had nine goals and four assists to his credit. Cook was also the best goal scorer in the division, while Northcott topped the Canadian section in this department with nine.

The leaders follow: CANADIAN DIVISION Team—Maroons, won 6, lost 3, tied 0, points 12. Points—Goals and assists: Haynes, Maroons, 5 goals 4 assists, 13 points. Goals—Northcott, Maroons, 9. Assists—Haynes, Maroons, 4. Penalties—Horner, Toronto, 29. Shutouts—Walsh, Maroons, 2.

GUNNERS PLAN SWIMMING TEAM

Hop to Send Squad Into Vancouver Island Swimming League Gala

In an effort to add to the ranks of competitors in Vancouver Island swimming League gala here this season, the Fifth Brigade Artillery is tentatively organizing a team for the meet scheduled to take place on December 19. Arrangements are being made for the militia unit by Bert Buller, one of the city's leading distance men and water polo players a few years ago.

Several boys have been lined up to represent the Gunners, who are counting on a number of good juniors and one or two seniors who appeared in meets a few seasons past.

Frank Skilling and Bob and Harold England may be used by the troops while Bill Naysmith and Chuck Sharpe are a pair of juniors who should lend considerable strength to the youngest division.

Plans are carried through, the Gunners may join the Navy in bringing in a United Services water polo team to meet the cream of the city's players in that sport.

Canadian Association Shows Surplus of $1,262.43 For This Year

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—Final report of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada is in a good position, the treasurer's report for the year ending November 1, presented at the annual meeting here yesterday shows.

Disbursements during the year exceeded receipts but the surplus on hand amounts to $1,262.43. This compares with a total cash on hand on November 1, 1931, of $1,685.29. Receipts during the year totaled $1,814.32, and expenditures $1,262.43. This led to the reduction in the surplus. Fees for reinstatements during the year totaled $112.50, the bulk of them coming from the three prairie provinces. Dues from branches amounted to $90, and fees from allied bodies to $275, while registration card fees swelled the treasury by $655.

VICTORIA SOCCER HEADS REFUSE TO ATTEND OPEN MEETING HERE TO-MORROW

Officials of the British Columbia Football Association are wasting time and money calling an open meeting here on Saturday as the former members of the Lower Island Football Association have no intention of attending. C.V. Milton, former president of the L.I.F.A., said to-day, "We want answers to our letters and an official meeting of the B.C.F.A. Council in Victoria and not an open-gathering," he said. In making this announcement Mr. Milton stated he was speaking for himself and all the other members of the former board. Mr. Milton also announced that the resignation of the board would stand.

Alex. Marshall, former Victoria delegate to the B.C.F.A. who was attempting to arrange the meeting at the request of the provincial association stated to-day he would advise the heads of the B.C. Association of the stand taken by the Victoria officials. It was intended to hold a meeting here Saturday evening to be attended by Lloyd Craig and Bob Forgie, president and secretary of the B.C.F.A., respectively.

Under the circumstances it is doubtful if the meeting will be held. Mr. Marshall said.

English Cup Second Round To Be Played WEATHER WILL AFFECT SOCCER

Classic Competition Will Continue To-morrow; Thrilling Games Expected

Crucial Matches in English First Division; Arsenal Plays Chelsea

London, Dec. 9.—Second round cup battles and a three-cornered fight for runner-up position in the league first division, will focus attention of English soccer fans to-morrow. Thirty-two teams will be struggling to enter the third round of cup competition, while Aston Villa, Sheffield Wednesday and Derby County are staging a scrap for the right to tag along behind the Arsenal in the league standing.

To-morrow's sixteen winners earn the right to enter the third round—the first in which league first and second division teams compete. Monday the draw will be made. Smaller clubs anxious for games with the better known teams, which would aid their finances, will be playing "all out" to escape elimination.

Thrilling games are expected as the teams fight to go farther in quest of the Blue Riband of English soccer. Reading, conquerors of Brentford, will tackle Coventry City; while Brighton, who eliminated Crystal Palace, stack their forces against Wrexham, of the Northern section. Bristol fans will have two games to choose from this Saturday, with both the Rovers and the City still in the competition. Gillingham will be seen in action at the Rovers' grounds, while Tranmere Rovers offer the opposition at the City's enclosure.

Only a point ahead of Derby County and Sheffield Wednesday, Aston Villa, one-time leaders, will have to win to be sure of retaining second place in the first division standing. They oppose the strong Leeds United outfit, while the County and Wednesday take

Will Play Finals To-night In City Badminton Tourney

Semi-finals Featured By Defeat of Margery Benson, Women's Champion, By Florence Oates

RADFORD AND HINCKS MEET

Interesting Matches Anticipated; Programme Will Commence at 7.30 o'clock

Florence Oates, recent winner of the Garrison club title, wrote this to the quest of Margery Benson for her second successive city badminton championship, yesterday evening on the courts of the Willows Club, when she defeated the Willows player in three sets 3-11, 11-3, 11-1 to enter the final against Dorothy Morley, who survived a belated rally by her opponent, Mrs. Hugh Mangin, to win 11-6, 14-11. Noel Radford showed some of his old-time form to subdue Peter Phillips decisively, 15-6 and 15-0, while Drennan Hicks fulfilled predictions with a win over Harry Webb, 15-8, 15-11 in the other half of the men's singles semi-finals. Finals in all events will be played to-night, starting at 7.30 o'clock.

Florence Oates' experience in handling deep shots helped her considerably against Miss Benson, whose main strength lay in her shots flying to all corners. After Miss Benson had taken the initial set it was just a matter of time and patience. Miss Oates picked up the smashes with short returns that made Miss Benson chase to net to retrieve and this type of game soon put Miss Oates out in front to hold a lead which was never seriously threatened. Miss Morley, clearing beautifully to the back court, won the first set at 11-6 from Mrs. Mangin, but ran into more resistance in the second set which went to extra points before being won by Miss Morley at 14-11.

RADFORD SHOWS FORM

Radford, after a mediocre display in most of his matches to-date, showed sufficient form against Phillips to make him an outstanding favorite in his match with Hicks to-night. Hicks' all-round agility and handling of the shuttle, the head-ling of which was a surprise, was the scoring was slow and both players had to work hard to score points. They played for a long time before the score was even, especially in the first set, until Hicks struck a scoring streak that ended the set. Webb took an early lead in the second which was overtaken by Hicks in the late stages.

Peter and George Phillips gained the final bracket in the men's open doubles when they defeated Bob Campbell and Bill Dunbar in straight sets. They will meet Hicks and Radford in the final.

The handicap events have also drawn a large crowd. In the mixed doubles Miss M. Ryall and G. Ryall will oppose Marjorie Hughes and Ralph Bagley in the final. Florence Oates and Doreen Swayne will meet Mrs. Munroe and Mrs. Mangin in the final of the women's handicap doubles. In the handicap doubles, Ian Phillips and Bill Harrison will meet Watson and Ryall. Both teams had extra set matches yesterday evening to reach the finals. In the veterans' doubles, Holmes will take on Merston and Austin Leigh.

Yesterday's results follow:

Women's Open Singles: Miss Y. Oates defeated Miss M. Benson, 3-11, 11-3, 11-1. Miss D. Morley defeated Mrs. Mangin, 11-6, 14-11.

Mixed Open Singles (Semi-finals): D. Hicks defeated Harry Webb, 15-8, 15-11. N. Radford defeated J. P. Phillips, 15-6, 15-0.

Women's Open Doubles (Semi-finals): Mrs. MacDonald and Miss Morley (Turn to Page 17, Col. 5)

S. DAVIDSON TAKES ISSUE WITH MORKIN

Secretary of Dominion Football Assn. Speaks on A.A.U. Affiliation

Agreement Was Reached Providing Pros and Amateurs Could Intermingle

Winnipeg, Dec. 9.—Issue was taken yesterday evening by Sam Davidson, secretary-treasurer of the Dominion Football Association, with statements made yesterday by James Morkin, Winnipeg, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, at the annual meeting in Ottawa. The statements of Mr. Morkin referred to the proposed alliance between the A.A.U. of C. and the D.F.A.

Mr. Morkin was quoted as saying "he had been informed" the committees of the two organizations appointed to draft articles of alliance "had failed to reach an agreement."

Mr. Davidson declared the A.A.U. of C. president had himself been a member of the committee on alliance, and the joint committees did reach an agreement. The agreement provided for the intermingling of amateurs and professionals, and when the agreement was read, July 24, no exception was taken by Mr. Morkin, stated Mr. Davidson.

Later, however, in November, at an interview, Mr. Morkin had advised Mr. Davidson, he had misunderstood the situation regarding the intermingling of amateurs and professionals and he (Morkin) "was now doubtful if the annual meeting of the A.A.U. of C. would give the D.F.A. the concessions desired, but we could hope for the best."

WRESTLING ON THIS EVENING

Double Main Event Will Feature Card Being Offered at Tillicum Gym

A double main event will be staged on the wrestling card at the Tillicum gym to-night. Both bouts are scheduled to go over the six ten-minute round rule and the programme will get under way at 8.45 o'clock.

In the first bout Bobby Bylund will meet "Wildcat" Pete, while the second will bring together Pancho Vitela and Jack Gorman. Vitela, a Mexican grappler, is making his first appearance in a local ring. The local preliminary will see "Far" Griffin oppose George Harrison.

Fred Richardson will referee the bouts.

Superiors Defeat English Team 2-0

London, Dec. 9.—Edmonton Superiors, yesterday evening defeated a vastly improved English hockey team 2 to 0 in a tight game played at the St. Brendan arena. It was the sixth straight victory for the Canadians, who are touring the United Kingdom and the continent.

The English defence was considerably better than in any of the previous games and the Superiors had difficulty in penetrating it. Gardiner too, in the Britons' goal, was a tower of strength. Edmonton scored in the first period via Buster Brown. The second frame was scoreless and James Brown got the second goal in the final period.

London Tecs Move Up In Hockey Race

Score 1 to 0 Victory Over Champion Buffalo Bisons to Creep Within Single Point of Syracuse, International League Leaders; Detroit Wins

London, Ont., Dec. 9.—Half way through the second period Leo Quenneville scored on a pass from Gene Carrigan to give London Tecumseh a 1-to-0 victory over Buffalo Bisons, last year's champions, in a hard-fought International Hockey League game here yesterday evening.

The victory gave the Londoners a firm grip on second position in the league race, and they advanced within one-point of the league-leading Syracuse Stars. It was the fifth consecutive shut-out the Bisons have suffered on London ice in two seasons and Frank Neighbor's orange shirts have not scored a goal on the local ice since November 26, 1931.

Detroit, Dec. 9.—Detroit Olympians scored a 3-to-0 shut-out over Cleveland Indians in their International Hockey League match here yesterday evening. The otherwise slow game was enlivened by numerous penalties. George Hay, Detroit's playing manager, registered the first Olympic goal, early in the second period. Near the end of the third period, Hugging, Detroit forward, got his first goal this season on an assist from Hay. Three minutes later Steele registered the final Detroit goal.

Vancouver Swimmers Seek Intercity Galas

Mainland Group After Special Meets Shortly

Would Have Victoria Hosts to Crack Terminal City Team in February and Return Compliment in April

Scheme Viewed Favorably Here

Proposal to Be Thrashed Out at Special Swimming League Meeting Monday

Swimming circles of Victoria viewed with favor a proposal from the Lower Mainland Swimming League, Vancouver organization of swimming clubs, suggesting inter-city galas here and in the Terminal City in the near future. The mainlanders, in a letter written by Vaughan Brydson-Jack, propose to have their league hold elimination galas in January in order to select a team for a meet here probably in February.

As a return compliment they would stage a meet, probably in March, in which they would compete against a squad representing the cream of the Vancouver Island League in Vancouver.

The project will be taken up at the meeting of the local organization in the Y.M.C.A. on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Excerpts from Brydson-Jack's letter set forth the scheme as follows: "In Vancouver we propose having

Reg. Williams Is Cycle Head

Reg. Williams was re-elected president of the Victoria Motorcyclist Club at the annual meeting held yesterday evening. The complete list of officers follows: President, R. It was decided to hold the annual annual trial for the Brentwood Trophy on December 18.

two local galas, in January and March, open to our organization of mainland clubs. In order to provide an incentive we would like to consider these as elimination galas for the selection of a team to swim against your (Victoria's) best swimmers in Victoria in February and after our March affair, we would like to have you come to Vancouver for a gala in April.

"We feel that expenses, in so far as prizes are concerned, could be kept at a minimum, and possibly a percentage of the gate might be available towards traveling expenses of the swimmers."

WOULD ADD TO INTEREST

Swimming leaders here, approached on the matter, voiced their sympathy with the scheme which would give local talent something to work for and add to the interest in the swimming game by bringing in outside competition.

The project is expected to be thrashed out at Monday evening's meeting when handicaps and final plans for the Vancouver Island Swimming League Galas on December 19 will be completed.

Grapplers Put on Best Bouts in Weeks; Forsgren and Kazanjian Draw

Vancouver, Dec. 9.—Fourteen pulsating rounds of wrestling rewarded a fair-sized crowd in the auditorium on Thursday night, all three of the triple headline bouts being interesting enough to make it the best show staged here for weeks, with the Forsgren-Kazanjian contest outstanding.

This pair matched strength for strength and hold for hold through five tense rounds, wrestled cleanly, and finished without either man being able to obtain a fall, the crowd cheering them loudly as they left the ring.

Jack McLaughlin beat Bobby Novak, Elgin, Ill., in a fast middleweight bout, taking falls in the third and fourth rounds after dropping one in the first.

Kazanjian gave one of the most pleasing and finished exhibitions put on here by any grappler. He was much faster than Forsgren and had more knowledge of various holds, but the local fireman's great strength enabled him to secure a draw.

Amateur Athletic Union Finds Stiff Task in Naming Memorial Trophy Winner

Prize Given For Best Performance

Duncan McNaughton Included; Physical Training Teachers Under Discussion

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—Six athletes, including one woman and four Olympic stars, are in the running for the badge of honor in the Canadian amateur sport, the Norton H. Crowe memorial trophy. Reversing a stand taken earlier in the day delegates at the annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada yesterday suspended the constitution to permit the addition of the name of Alex. Wilson of Montreal to the list of candidates.

Confusion among some of the delegates led to the first action and the change was made after P. J. Mulqueen, chairman of the Canadian Olympic committee, had pressed for the inclusion of Wilson. Advantage of the opportunity was taken at once by Miss Alexandrine Gibb of Toronto to enter Hilda Strike of Montreal, outstanding member of the Canadian women's track team at the Los Angeles Olympiad.

BEST PERFORMANCE

The trophy is awarded annually for the year's outstanding performance by a Canadian athlete. The A.A.U. constitution requires the submission of names thirty days prior to the annual meeting. Wilson's name was not submitted by the Quebec branch, E. H. Bourdon, Montreal, explained, because they believed he was not eligible since he had taken up coaching as a profession. Miss Gibb said Miss Strike's name had been left out because there was some doubt as to whether a woman was eligible.

The Montreal girl came second in the 100-metre event at Los Angeles, losing by inches to Stella Walsh, who was forced to step in world record time.

Alex Wilson bettered the world and Olympic records in placing second in the 800-metre event which was won by Tom Hampton of England. The Montreal flyer also was third in the 400 metres, backing Bill Carr and Ben Eastman, American aces.

The other two Olympic contestants are in the title-holding class, Duncan McNaughton, Vancouver, the only Canadian to place first in a track event, won the high jump; Bill Cockburn, Winnipeg, played goal on the Winnipeg hockey team which won for Canada the Olympic title at the Lake Placid winter games.

SOMERVILLE IN RUNNING

Ross "Sandy" Somerville, London, first Canadian to win the United States amateur golf championship, is another contender for the trophy. While he is an all-round athlete, excelling in hockey, football and cricket, his claim rests on his golf performance.

The sixth entrant is another hockey star, Gordon "Phat" Wilson, Port Arthur, veteran of three Port Arthur Allan Cup championships who still is a power in in-lakehead hockey.

Award of the trophy will be made by a committee which will reach its decision late to-day.

Difficulties cropped up in working out a definition of the status of a school teacher giving part time to physical training, and the question was referred back to a committee after discussion.

A suggestion that teachers' whose additional duties call for the teaching of physical training, "should be classed as non-competing amateurs," failed to secure approval.

local rivals, Americans, 3 to 1, in the first intracity game of the season.

A third period burst of scoring, after Ronnie Martin had tallied for the A's on a perfect passing play to tie the score, gave the Rangers the decision in a hard-fought game. Bun Cook, who had made the first Ranger counter, slammed in the second goal with a quick shot and Cecil Dillon added the final tally.

The 15,000 fans who attended, almost taxing the full seating capacity of the Garden, witnessed a fast, open game that never lagged in excitement. The first string forward line of the Americans, Centreman Normie Himes, flanked by Rabbit McVeigh and Martin, continued in their amazing stride to hold their own with the Rangers; but in the reserve power the bluehirts had a noticeable edge.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Rangers, F. Cook (Boucher), 101. Penalties, Seibert, Brennan (major), Johnson.

Second period—No score. Penalties Ayres (2), Johnson.

Ottawa, Dec. 9.—Ottawa Senators blanked Canadiens of Montreal here yesterday evening, 2 to 0, registering their second shutout of the season.

Billy Beveridge, second-string goalie on loan to Providence Reds, of the Canadian-American League, was pressed into service by the Senators to fill the shoes of Alex Connell, injured earlier in the week in Chicago.

Beveridge rose to dizzy heights to shut out the Flying Frenchmen. The win was largely due to his sensational play. Canadiens looked tired, anything but the team that has led the National Hockey League in past years. Their plays did not click. They lacked the old-time finish around the nets and even their shooting was off.

Ottawa scored first in the second period, Gus Forslund, playing his first year in big-time hockey, scoring from a scramble. The second counter came in the third period, Cooney Weiland posting it on a pass from Allen Shields.

Second period—1, Ottawa, Forslund (Touhey-McInelly-Howe), 14:10. Penalties, H. Kiiree and Carson.

Montreal, Dec. 9.—Montreal Maroons moved up to first place in the Canadian section of the National Hockey League yesterday evening, defeating the champion Toronto Maple Leafs, 1 to 0, in a fast, exciting and wide open game before a capacity crowd of 12,000.

Paul Haynes, Maroons' man of the moment, shot in the deciding goal midway through the third period. The slim centre beat Lorne Chabot from close range on a pass from Earl Robinson, right winger. The goal made Haynes the league's leading point-scorer.

Chabot, Maple Leaf goalie, was by far the outstanding player on the Toronto team, stopping shot after shot that looked like sure goals. He was injured in the third period but was able to continue.

First period—No score. Penalties, Clancy, Smith, L. Conacher, Jackson.

Second period—No score. Penalties, Smith, Ward, Bailey, Horner, Duguid.

Light Volume and Narrow Range in Wheat Pit To-day

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Dec. 9.—Wheat prices moved within a narrow range here to-day and closed 1/4 lower to unchanged. Although New York reported 2,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat exported, only about 500,000 bushels business was reflected here.

December closed at 44, May at 47 and July at 48 1/2.

Offerings in the pit were quite small and hedging appeared to have fallen off considerably with country deliveries now down around the 600,000-bushel mark daily.

Australian exports were disappointing in view of the progress in harvesting the new crop. Only 886,000 bushels were cleared this week, and all but a few bushels were shipped to non-European countries.

The usual dullness prevailed in the cash wheat market and spreads remained practically unchanged. Actual sales of coarse grains were extremely light.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)
Winnipeg, Dec. 9.—Wheat: The wheat market was dull and featureless to-day with prices holding within a narrow range. At the start there was a little scattered buying by export and seaboard houses, but this demand was quickly satisfied, after which the market became drab, sinking down to bid prices which brought in sufficient local support to check further declines. Offerings were not pressing, especially on the dips. Export sales in all positions were around 500,000 bushels, prices were mostly 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower.

There was practically nothing doing in the cash market, and outside of an odd farmer's car coming out, there was no wheat changing hands. While there was no demand, offerings were extremely light and all spreads were unchanged. Outside of the fact that export business is disappointing, small, the news generally continues bullish in character.

A London dispatch from Helsingfors stated that following a breakdown of harvest plans, Russian representatives abroad have been instructed to notify purchasers with the exception of the Italian government, that grain exports by the Soviet have been cancelled.

News from the U.S. winter wheat belt was also bullish, with a serious shortage of moisture over large important areas, and that the dry area was being extended. Country marketings in the west yesterday were down to 634,000 bushels, as against 603,000 a year ago.

Winnipeg futures closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower.

Codeine Grains—These markets held steady, but there was very little going on. Offerings were very light, with practically no hedging whatever.

Oats closed 1/2 to 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower to unchanged, and rye 1/4 lower to unchanged. Flax closing prices 1/2 to 1/4 up.

Liverpool due 1/4 to 1/2 lower, based on Winnipeg.

How to Catch a Husband Dorothy Dix Considers Holding Him Harder

Super-salesmanship Needed to Catch and Keep a Husband—A Girl Has to Sell a Hard-boiled Man the Idea That Two Can Live as Cheaply as One; A Wife Has to Keep Her Husband Sold on the Idea That a Last-year's Model Is as Desirable as the Newest Thing in Girls

THE CHIEF THING, girls, in catching a husband and holding him after you get him is salesmanship. It is an advantage, of course, to have had Nature provide you with an Al line of attractions, but these avail you little if you do not know how to present them or call men's attention to them. The world is full of girls who are pretty and clever and look like a daily hint from Paris who spend their evenings sitting at home alone with Mamma and Papa and reading improving books, while other girls no better looking, no more entertaining, no better dressed are stepping out to places of amusement with eligible young men. And it is an axiom that the women who are best fitted to make good wives and mothers mostly arrive at the Spinster's Retreat instead of the altar.

It may be true, as a great philosopher has said, that if you manufacture a better mouse trap than any one else people will wear a path to your door to buy it, but this is not the case with women who manufacture husband-catchers. They cannot carry on their business without bringing it to the public's notice. They have to go after their customers. No man seeks them out in hidden places and insists on buying them wedding rings.

A girl may be as beautiful as Billie Dove, as witty as Helen Roland, as thrifty as Hetty Green, as good a cook as a domestic science teacher, but unless she knows how to advertise her wares no man ever discovers her. The flower that is born to blush unseen is the maiden who lacks salesmanship.

For men are singularly obtuse about women. They never see one unless she hits them in the eye, and that is why it is not enough for a girl to be pious, prudent and an aggregation of all the virtues. She has to know how to dress her window and turn the spotlight on it in order to make men perceive her charms.

If a girl wants to be popular and have dates and have men take her about and show her a good time, she has to sell herself to them as being worth the price of the money they spend upon her. She must be sufficiently good looking and well dressed to make them proud of being seen out with her and to cause other men to rubber and ask, who is the girl friend. Furthermore, she must throw in for good measure as much jolliness as the tariff will bear and a liberal amount of appreciation and a willingness to work like a coal-heaver to entertain her escort.

As a general thing men's taste runs to fancy goods in women, and this explains why little fluffy ruffles always has so much more attention than plain Mary Jane whose character is all wool and a yard wide and guaranteed to stand the wear and tear of life without shrinking or running in the wash.

If a girl wants to marry, she has to begin by breaking down the man's resistance to matrimony in general, for most men think that somehow, by their own subtlety and the help of God, they are going to escape burdening themselves with a wife and family. Of course, very few succeed in this, but often it takes years of high-powered salesmanship to convince a man that he is lonely and needs a wife to take care of him and that two can live more cheaply than one. Often it is only after a man is enticed by age or weakness by sickness that he consents to this line of sales talk. Perhaps that explains why flappers so often marry aged millionaires and trained nurses can always marry their patients if they want to.

Then every woman who marries has to sell some particular man the idea that she is his predestined mate and that she alone of all the women in the world understands him and perceives just how wonderful and great he is and how superior to all other men. No man knows how he happens to marry the particular woman he does marry, but she does. She knows just how she suggested to him the notion that he wanted her and could not be happy until he got her.

But if it is necessary for a woman to be a good saleswoman to catch a husband, it is even more necessary for her to be a super-saleswoman to keep him. This is a more difficult task, for it requires keeping him content with the bargain after the novelty has worn off and his purchase begins to show the wear and tear of age and usage. And that is a good deal like keeping a man sold on the belief that his old automobile is a better machine than a this season's model that is glittering with new paint and has stream line effects and all the new gadgets.

Still, it can be done and is done by tens of thousands of astute wives who sell their husbands so completely on the belief that they are the only genuine blown-in-the-bottle helpmates that their husbands never even take a look-see at any other woman or dream of trading in the old wife for a new.

There are many things that the wife who sells herself to her husband has to do. For one thing, she has to keep herself good to look at, that she continually justifies his taste in picking her out. She has to be easy to get along with and make herself as agreeable to him as the women he works with every day. In a word, she has to carry a line of attractions that enables her to meet all competition.

Then she has to take as much thought in studying her approach as if she was a super-salesman trying to sell him a block of bonds or a bill of goods. She has to wait for the psychological moment to tell him bad news and ask for money. She must have enough tact to know how to smooth down his fur until she has got him in a complacent mood when she can handle him and make him think that it is an economy to buy her a string of pearls or that her health requires a trip to Europe.

Some women are born saleswomen. They can talk a case-hardened, old bachelor into believing that he prefers his own fire to a club and would rather push a perambulator than play golf. They can convince any man that he is the one woman he has been looking for all his life. These are the women who always have dates from their school days up and who marry as often as the occasion requires. There are other women who have all the qualities that would make them ideal wives, but they lack the knack of selling themselves to men. These are old maids.

Ways of the Eskimos

V-RELIGION

Greeks and Romans of olden times believed that the sea was ruled by a god. The Greeks said that his name was Poseidon, but the Romans called him Neptune.

A young Eskimo taking a ride on a block of ice.

If you were to ask an Eskimo priest, or "angakok," about this goddess, he might reply: "Long ago the Old Woman's father cut off her fingers, and divided them into parts. Then he threw the parts into the sea, and they became seals and other animals. The Old Woman went to live in the ocean, and now she rules over it. When there is a storm, it shows that she is angry. If a hunter is not able to capture a seal or a walrus, it is because the Old Woman has been offended."

If we wanted to hear more about the Eskimo religion, the priest might go on to say: "Every man has two spirits. One of them stays in his body after death or enters the body of a new-born babe. The other spirit goes to one of the spirit lands. The best spirit lands, or heavens, are located under the ground, but there are also places in the air for spirits. It may seem odd to us that Eskimos should believe that 'the best spirit lands' are under the earth surface; but we must remember that coldness is much thought about in the Arctic region. Many Eskimo homes are built above holes in the ground, and it is known that warmth may be found in these holes. Thus you may see why Eskimo spirits should prefer to go down into the warm earth rather than up into the cold air. Christian missionaries have been at

MENACE OF CORN BORER EXPLAINED

The best way to combat the destructive corn borer, the insect which exacted such a toll in Ontario and various other parts of Canada as well as the United States, was to fight it with a special parasite, Prof. William Dower, Dominion entomologist, told members of the Kinsman Club in an illustrated address at their dinner in the Empress Hotel yesterday evening.

Discovery of the pest had been made in Australia in 1909, the speaker said, adding it had not been found in Canada until 1920. As an indication of the damage done by the insect, he noted the United States had in one year appropriated approximately $10,000,000 to combat it.

During 1926 the pest had damaged corn in Ontario to the extent of $3,000,000, he said.

Professor Dower's address was illustrated by an excellent film, produced by the Dominion Entomological Department, and shown by A. J. Hounstun of the Agriculture Department. Photos of the laboratory for breeding parasites at Chatham, Ont., were shown, and illustrated the methods by which they were propagated. Up to 1926, 3,700,000 parasites of one species had been reared in the Dominion. Difficulties encountered in introducing the parasites were also explained by the speaker, who stated that it was possible to have as much trouble with them as the pest.

Mr. Brunwick entered seriously into the apple exporting business with the marketing in England recently of a large shipment of Macintosh apples grown in the St. John valley.

Wires Break During Prairie Cold Wave

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Dec. 9.—Sub-zero temperatures, somewhat lessened in Manitoba, but still maintaining an icy hold in the other prairie provinces and northwestern Ontario, continued today.

Winnipeg, which held the spotlight as the coldest place on the prairies Thursday, was still in the minus-thirty class during today's early hours, but relief was predicted for later in the day. In other sections of the prairies it continued, "fair and cold," as forecast by the weather bureau.

The cold wave brought with it a series of unexplained wire breaks, causing interruptions in street car and telephone services, while Winnipeg firemen were on the jump, answering more than a score of calls during a twenty-four-hour period. There were minor calls, mostly chimney fires.

Passengers Cheer As Crew Rescued

Story of Rescue of Canadian Crew By French Sailors Told When Ss. De Grasse Reaches Port

New York, Dec. 9.—Three men and a boy who were rescued last week from the distressed Canadian schooner Clemencia, arrived here the other day on the French liner De Grasse.

The De Grasse sighted the foundering schooner in the darkness of early Friday morning when the weakened crew sent up a last flare. They had been fighting insuperable odds since late Monday night when the ship's peak halcyons parted and left her to the mercy of a heavy gale.

When the 146-ton Clemencia left Weymouth, N.S., for Clark's Harbor, N.C., they were five on board, but Douglas Kenney, the cook, was washed away in the storm.

The other members of the crew were Ernest Anderson, forty-four years old; the master, Kenneth Lowe, thirty-six; Berle, thirty-six; and Earl G. Nickerson, sixteen. The boy was on the ship for a first taste of the sea. "I am not discouraged," he said yesterday. "I haven't had a chance yet to find out whether I like the sea. These things will happen, and I was probably lucky to have it on my first trip. I think I got my experience quickly, and this will probably never happen to me again."

FLARE SIGHTED
In command of Captain Pierre Thoreau, the De Grasse was steaming toward New York early Friday morning. When Third Officer Paul de Pont, who was on the bridge, sighted a flare on the horizon, Captain Thoreau was awakened and directed the ship toward the position. It was approximately 350 miles directly east of New York, and about 170 miles south of Cape Sable.

Nothing was seen after the first flare, and the De Grasse cruised around for nearly two hours before sighting the schooner as a high wave lifted her above the horizon. Clinging to the afterdeck were the four men.

Captain Thoreau called for a volunteer lifeboat crew, and all the liner's crew offered to go. A crew was chosen, but the sea was so rough it was impossible to get a boat down. Finally the weather began to moderate and a boat was put over successfully, manned by the fourth officer, Jean Baptiste Hamon, the second boatswain, Joseph Renault and five seamen.

PASSENGERS CHEER
Most of the passengers had been on deck for hours, and they cheered the lifeboat crew away as it pulled to the stern of the Clemencia. They said the four men were so weak they could do little but drop into the lifeboat, which was pitching beneath them.

After they were hauled aboard the De Grasse, Captain Anderson and his men were put to bed, warmed by blankets of rum and warm food. All were bruised and lacerated but none had serious injuries.

Captain Anderson said the Clemencia was sinking badly but he had no fear of her sinking because of her wood construction and the lumber cargo. The chief danger lay in being washed overboard. The cook was swept away unnoticed by the others.

Young Nickerson set off the last flare, the one sighted by the De Grasse, he said. They had no regular flares, but soaked clothing in gasoline at intervals and touched it with a match.

Young Nickerson said he was told not to light the flare until he saw something. At last he thought he could see a ship in the distance, but after he set off the flare he looked again and there was no ship. As it happened, the De Grasse came into view soon afterward from the opposite direction.

A purse of $200 was presented to the rescue men by the passengers on the liner. The Coast Guard announced that the destroyer Conyngham had taken the derelict schooner in tow and was proceeding to Boston.

LOAD LINE LAW AWAITS ORDERS

Seattle, Dec. 9.—George D. Hubbard, collector of customs here, said yesterday he was advised that the load line law applying to vessels of 150 gross tons or over of either United States or Canadian registry, will not be in effect in inland waters until cancellation of negotiations with the Canadian Government.

The area designated includes waters east of a line between Port Angeles and Victoria, thence east of Vancouver Island and east of line from Hope Island to Cape Calvert, the waters of Pithuland Sound and thence through inland passages as far north as Cross Sound.
